Hello FCTE Members!

I have just a few items for this edition of the Newsbox.

Please remember that registration forms for this year's Institute for Professional Development must be postmarked by this Wednesday, October 1. Please consider attending this year's institute. We've reduced the registration cost in hopes that it would allow for more attendance in this time of strict budget cuts. We need your support now more than ever. Please consider attending this year's institute, even if it's for only one day. You won't be disappointed! I've attached a conference preview for you.

Ginny White's Ramblings* have been added as a reoccurring post! Check out <http://floridaenglishteachers.blogspot.com/> to read her first entry.

If you are Florida English/Language Arts teacher and would like to have your blog, website, or wiki added the FCTE's blog, please forward the link to drcwestwhite@gmail.com and it will be added under Florida Teacher Sites. If not, perhaps you have favorite online teacher resources (author pages, activities, lesson plans, novel ideas, etc.) that you would like to share with your colleagues. If so, forward those (as many as you would like) to drcwestwhite@gmail.com, too.

If you do not wish to receive the FCTE Newsbox, please let me know and I will remove your name from the list. Please keep in mind that removing your name means that you will not receive any FCTE email correspondence.
